

Miss Me, But Let Me Go

When I come to the end of the road
and the sun has set on me,
I want no rites in a gloom filled room,
why cry for a soul set free.
Miss me a little--but not too long,
and not with your head bowed low,
Remember the love that we once shared,
miss me--but let me go.
For this is a journey that we all must take,
and each must go alone.
It's all a part of the Master's plan,
a step on the road to home.
When you are lonely and sick of heart,
go to the friends we know.
And bury your sorrows in doing good deeds,
miss me--but let me go.

Acknowledgements

We could not have born our grief without the help of God, and the love of you, our friends. Your cards, home visits, flowers, telephone calls, telegrams, food, prayers and all the other acts of kindness have sustained us during these hours of sorrow. We gratefully acknowledge, with deep, appreciation whatever was done or spoken in our behalf.

May God forever bless each of you is our prayer.
