OBITUARY

Frank Andrew Roundtree was born on October 18, 1941, to Rev. and Mrs. Frank (Willie Mae) Roundtree, Sr. He was the first born of his parents four (4) children. At the age of seven, Frank and his family transition from Jacksonville, Florida to Douglas, Georgia after his father's death. The family came to Douglas to live with his maternal grandmother. His parents, grandmother, and two of his siblings preceded him in death.

As a youth, Frank became an active member of Gaines Chapel AME Church and remained a committed and dedicated member until his health failed recently. Frank developed some very strong work ethics at an early age. He cut grass, cleaned offices, cropped tobacco, and picked lots of cotton as a teenager contributing his wages for the welfare of the family. He became a certified lifeguard and worked during the summer months for the Douglas City Recreation under his mother's supervision.

He attended Carver High & Elementary School and graduated at the age of sixteen (16). He received his undergraduate degree from Morris Brown College at age 20 and began his teaching career immediately. He taught at Carver High School and was later transferred to Coffee High School, where he taught for 31 years totally before his retirement. He loved teaching and loved to teach 2nd and 3rd generation students. Early in his career as an educator, he met the love of his life, Juanita Garland. After dating for six years, they married and remained married for 49 years until her death.

Precious Memories

OBITUARY

They were such good parents to their students but were even better parents to their nieces and nephews. Both made their family members a high priority. The two spent most of their time being good stewards of what God blessed them with. They gardened, harvested pecans, groomed, and landscaped their property.

They were caregivers to their parents and each other, and they loved shopping and short term traveling. They went fishing together. Whatever the two did, they enjoyed doing it together. Frank would only golf without her.

Frank enjoyed being an educator so much he continued after retirement, working as an educator at the RYDC in Ocilla, Georgia, and later at the adult prison in Nicholls, Georgia, graduating a historical number of students from the prison population. He spent time as a jailor for a brief period also as a limousine driver, loving interaction with his clientele during trips to various venues.

Frank, while he never played sports in high school nor his collegiate years, he was an avid sports fan. He coached for many years for the Douglas Recreation League having winning seasons; won two state championships in baseball and basketball in his role as head coach. His players honor his role as a character builder, utilizing sports as the conduit, even at present. Whatever his employment entailed, Frank was an excellent provider for any and all of his family. He gave freely to his family, friends, church, and community, where he is faithfully known as "Tree."

Frank is survived by one (1) sister, Rev. Viola Roundtree (Terry) Parker, her daughter, Joann M Ross, Joann's five children, nieces, nephews, grandnieces and nephews, cousins, and a host of other family and friends.
