

He Takes The Best

God saw you were getting tired,
And a cure was not to be,
So he put his arms around you,
And whispered "My child, come home with me",
With tearful eyes we watched you slowly fade away,
Although we loved you deeply,
We could not make you stay,
A golden heart stopped beating,
Hard working hands to rest,
God broke our hearts to prove to us,
He only takes the best,
Without farewell you fell asleep
With only memories for us to keep,
In Life we love you dearly,
In death we love you still,
You hold a place in our hearts no one can ever fill.

Obituary

Today, we celebrate the life of Sister Everlena Henderson Jackson. She was born on July 1, 1939, to the late Edward Henderson and the late Isabella Johnson Henderson. She spent her early years in Coffee County but moved to Lowndes County after the death of her mother. Everlena received her education in the public school system.

She was joined in holy matrimony to Cleophus Paulk, and this union was blessed with three children. Everlena was a devoted mother and endearing grandmother. Everlena was employed by Coffee County Board of Education, the Sewing Factory of Ambrose, and Fleetwood Draperies of Douglas, Georgia.

At an early age, she joined St. James Missionary Baptist Church of Ambrose, Georgia. She was gifted with a beautiful voice. She loved singing in the adult choir and serving as the church secretary.

In 1994, Everlena married Willie Jackson Jr. They enjoyed attending church together at St. James Missionary Baptist Church and St. John Missionary Baptist Church until their health declined.

She leaves to cherish her memories: three children: Adolph (Sandra) Paulk, Cassandra Paulk Rolax, and Frederic (Jacqueline) Paulk; twelve grandchildren; sixteen great-grandchildren; her St. James Missionary Baptist Church family; and a host of other relatives and friends.

Lovingly Submitted
