Life Reflections

George Eddie Smith was born March 31, 1964, to the late George Edward Smith and Carrie Fussell in Douglas, GA. George was a caring son, brother, father, uncle, and friend. George departed this world suddenly on October 7, 2023. His battle with serious medical issues in recent years showed his courage in the face of adversity.

George graduated from Coffee High School in 1982, leaving an indelible mark on his alma mater. He was not only a diligent student but also a highly coveted football star whose athletic prowess and dedication on the field inspired countless fans and teammates alike. George went on to play for Texas A&M and then transferred to Clemson University. He later went to play with the Tampa Bay Buccaneers before a career-ending injury. His legacy extends beyond the gridiron, as George's warm and compassionate nature touched the lives of all who knew him. George went on to have a very successful professional career in Atlanta. He will be remembered not only for his achievements but also for his character. George's memory will forever live on in the hearts of those he touched, and his legacy will continue to inspire generations to come.

George Smith was preceded in death by his father, George Smith, and his mother, Carrie Denning of Douglas, GA.

He leaves to cherish his memories: his son, Myles Smith; siblings: Eric Smith (Sarah), Salinda Moore, Channtelier Gamble, Diane Hutto (Sam), and Carl Smith (Shanna). He had a host of nieces, nephews, and family and friends who cherished him from near and far.
