

Weep Not For Me

Weep not for me though I am gone

Into that gentle night

Grieve if you will, but not for long

Upon my soul's sweet flight

I am at peace, my soul's at rest

There is no need for tears.

For with your love I was so blessed

For all those many years.

There is no pain, I suffer not,

The fear now all is gone.

Put now these things out of your thoughts

In your memory I live on.

Remember not my fight for breath

Remember not the strife

Please do not dwell upon my death,

But celebrate my life dear children and family

Precious Memories

Obituary

I have fought a good fight, I have finished my course, I have kept the faith: Henceforth there is laid up for me a crown of righteousness, which the Lord, the righteous judge, shall give me at that day: and not to me only, but unto all them also that love his appearing. 2 Timothy 4:7-8

Mother Eva Coleman Ingram was born on August 3, 1927, in Dooley County, Georgia, to the late Willie Coleman and Ella Quinn. She entered into Holy Matrimony with the late Julius Ingram in 1942.

Mother Ingram was a devoted member of Vickers Temple House of God Saints in Christ, where she faithfully served as the Mother of the church and the State mother until her health declined. Her life was a testament to her unwavering faith, and she touched the hearts of all who knew her with her sweet and kind demeanor. Her favorite expression, "I thank God for life," encapsulated her gratitude for the blessings she received throughout her long and beautiful journey.

In her professional life, Mother Ingram worked at Crowder's Poultry as an assembly line worker and later found fulfillment as a housekeeper and cook for the Peterson family. Her love for her husband, children, and grandchildren was boundless.

Mother Ingram is now reunited with her parents, Willie and Ella Coleman, and nine siblings who preceded her in death. She leaves behind a legacy of love and faith, cherished by her two daughters, Eula Bestman and Pastor Mary (Apostle Jimmy) Murray, two sons, Edward Ingram and Bishop (Apostle Janice) Ingram, as well as ten grandchildren. She is also remembered fondly by a multitude of great-grandchildren, nieces, nephews, cousins, and sorrowing friends.

Though she may have left this earthly realm, the memory of Mother Eva Coleman Ingram's enduring love and devotion will continue to live on in the hearts of those she touched. May her soul rest in eternal peace.
