

Don't Cry For Me

Don't cry for me. I will be okay. Heaven is my home now, and this is where I'll stay.

Don't cry for me. I'm where I belong. I want you to be happy and try to stay strong.

Don't cry for me. It was just my time, but I'll see you someday on the other side.

Don't cry for me. I am not alone. The angels are with me to welcome me home. Don't cry for me for I have no fear. All my pain is gone, and Jesus took my tears. Don't cry for me. This is not the end. I'll be waiting here for you when we meet again.

Life Reflections

Larry Brinson, affectionately known as "L.B." or "Uncle Larry," was born on February 24, 1952, to the late Javie Brinson Sr. and Eola Maxwell Brinson. He grew up in Denton, Georgia, where he attended and worshiped at the Church of God in Christ. While attending church, he discovered his love for music and learned to play the lead guitar, a skill he cherished and used to uplift others in worship.

Larry was an avid outdoorsman who found joy in fishing and tending to his lawn. A true jack-of-all-trades, he held many job titles throughout his life, from truck driver to lumberyard worker. No matter the role, he was a hard-working and dedicated man who took pride in his labor.

Known for his kindness and generosity, Larry was always willing to lend a helping hand to those in need. He especially treasured time spent with his children and grandchildren, creating memories that will be forever cherished.

Larry was preceded in death by his parents, Javie Brinson Sr. and Eola Maxwell Brinson; his brothers, Javie Brinson Jr. and James Brinson; his sisters, Mae Bell Brinson and Brenda Lee Brinson; and his beloved twin, Clara Mae Brinson.

He leaves to cherish his memory: his devoted wife, Angela Gail Brinson; his sons, Larry M. Brinson and Daniel L. Rush; his daughters, Shaquanna R.M. Brinson and Katish N. Rush; his God-daughters, Jessica (Jamie) Figueroa and Mia Jones; his brothers, Patrick (Angela) Brinson, Butch Brinson, and Glen Brinson; his sisters, Eunice (Melvin) Gray, Bernice Davis, and Hattie L. Cherry; his beloved grandchildren, Emani Curet, Jaida Brooks, Trinity Brinson, Jaquan Smith, Ja'Niyah Smith, Conner Smith, and Jenesis Brinson; as well as a host of nieces, nephews, cousins, and dear friends.
