

The Day My Grandma Went Away

The day my grandma went away
Some may say it wasn't a pleasant day.
But let me tell you what happened to me.
And hopefully you will understand and see.
My momma called me to come and sit.
I guess she thought I would pitch a fit.
There were words my momma tried to say
But I finished her sentence by saying
"My Grandma left for heaven today."
Her facial expression was quiet puzzling and sad,
I looked at her and asked, "How's my dad?"
She said, "He's fine, he seems okay."
I said, that's good, now there's something that I must say, see, while I was asleep, I saw Grandma,
She said to tell y'all not to cry for she finally made it home.
She's in the sky
I tried to yell for her as she turned to walk away,
But she slowly looked back and said,
"No Ajayla, you must stay"
She walked down Love Street, which is paved with gold
And then looked back and said to me,
If anybody ask you about this story
Just smile big and say, Our Grandma, made it to Glory!

Obituary

Brenda Evins McAllister departed this life on Thursday, April 17, 2025, surrounded by her loving family.

Brenda was born on July 13, 1950, in Douglas, Georgia, to the late Clarence Evins Sr. and Annie Mae Evins. At an early age, Brenda gave her life to Christ. She was a faithful member of Pleasant Grove Baptist Church. During high school, she ran track and played in the Carver High School Band.

She was preceded in death by her parents, Clarence Evins Sr. and Annie Mae Evins; her brothers, Clarence Evins Jr. and Kenneth Evins.

She leaves to cherish her memory: Two sons, Allen (Mary) Evins of Conyers, GA, and Cedric Evins of Fort Worth, TX; One daughter, Zondra Minor of Douglas, GA; Five grandchildren: Kourtney Evins of Covington, GA, Desiree Evins of Fort Worth, TX, Azaria Evins of Marietta, GA, Ajayla Evins of Norfolk, VA, and Monshun Evins of Kennesaw, GA; Three great-grandchildren: Kiely Evins and Kamri Moore of Covington, GA, and Mason Evins of Kennesaw, GA; One sister, Linda (Issac) Brockington of Douglas, GA; One sister-in-law, Judy Evans of Lithonia, GA; A dear friend who was like a sister, Dorothy Cherry of Douglas, GA; Two nieces, Angela (Anthony) Denning and Tiffany Evans, both of Stone Mountain, GA; One nephew, Issac (Kisa) Brockington of Douglas, GA; And one cousin, Betty Wilson of Douglas, GA.

Waiting No More To Go Home

I am watching and waiting for Jesus to come ok, what a day that will be! I want to be worthy, so He will say, "Well done", and with Him I will live for eternity. A glorious life He has promised to us, and no matter what we possess here, nothing compared to our mansion above, and that life without sickness or fear. So, I am watching and waiting, I do not want to miss the coming of Jesus my Lord! He will take me to live in a land of sweet bliss; his home is my final reward.
