

Special Messages

We first met as friends then we became lovers, and you became my life partner

Now that you're gone the nights and evenings got a lil colder , I ask God everyday to keep walking with me on this journey through loss, and grief of you as I walk into my healing. I miss you and so does your family you were so loved on this earth, and your spirit will remain in our hearts as we think of the countless memories that were shared with family and friends. I love you Martonio Mitchell.

~Truly Your Wife, JJ

You were the one we could always call on,
A guiding light when our days felt long.
With love and grace, your heart would give,
Teaching us daily how to truly live.

But God saw fit to call you home,
Where streets are gold and angels roam.
Though our hearts ache and tears still fall,
We find peace in answering His call.

Your love lives on, it will never fade,
In every life and choice you made.
Until we meet on Heaven's shore,
We'll cherish you forevermore.

Martonio Mitchell,
I wish I could hear you say
Cleveland you aint called to check on me again
~Your Cleveland Brown Jr.

Life Reflections

Martonio Ludradius Mitchell, affectionately known as “Tony,” was born on February 18, 1971, to Linda Jackson and the late Ollie Lott. He was the oldest and wisest grandson, as he often called himself. Tony graduated in 1989 and quickly became known for his vibrant personality. To many, he was young, fly, and flashy. He loved to dress, cook, coach kickball, and bring laughter by talking trash with everyone he met. To Tony, no one was ever a stranger.

On Sunday, August 24, 2025, Tony was called home to be with the Lord.

He was preceded in death by his father, Ollie Lott; his brother, Earnest Waldron; and his brother-in-law, Bobbie Tobler.

Tony leaves behind a loving legacy as a husband, son, father, brother, uncle, and grandfather. He is cherished by his devoted wife of eight years, Jacquelyn Mitchell; one daughter, Shaneque Mitchell; one son, Marterrius “MJ” Mitchell; and nine beloved grandchildren: Emir, Tyir, Kario, K’Ora, Ty’Jay, Amaree, Aliyah, Christopher, and Lay Lay. He is also survived by his mother, Linda Jackson; two brothers, Antonio Moore and Jermaine Mitchell; four sisters, Diyecha Jackson, Latorya (Eric) Hall, Christie Paulk, and Denise Washington; his mother-in-law, Annie Pearl Edwards; three sisters-in-law, Auis Johnson, Sharon Andrews, and Vickie Tobler; one brother-in-law, Rickie Howell McCrae; eight stepchildren; three special nieces, Quadijah (Trazyana) Taylor, Iyssi Gibson, and Jasmere Sims; and a special nephew, Rajon Williams; and a host of aunts, uncles, nieces, nephews, cousins, and friends will forever remember Tony for his humor, his style, and his love for life.
