

A letter to my Husband,
'Joseph

A LETTER TO MY HUSBAND, JOSEPH

My Joseph,
You were heaven's gift to me—
a steady light, a gentle strength, a love that asked for nothing yet gave everything.

You loved our children with a fullness that could only come from a heart without limits.
You lifted them, guided them, and showed them what it means to be cherished every single day.

You loved our family with that same devotion—always pausing, always noticing, always making sure we were safe,
seen, and held.
You made each of us feel like we were heaven's own priority, because in your eyes, we were.

Even when heaven called you home, you left us wrapped in the lessons your life so beautifully taught—kindness without condition,
loyalty without question,
love without end.

We feel you still in the way we care for one another,
in the laughter we share, in the strength we find
when the days feel heavy.
Your love didn't leave with you—
it lives in us,
guiding us,
holding us.

Heaven may have you now, Joseph,
but your love—
your beautiful, steady, everlasting love—

is still here,
holding us all.

LIFE REFLECTIONS

Joseph Scott Elliott, son of Sue A. Eady and the late Joseph E. Elliott, was born on July 9, 1984. To those who knew him, he was simply Scott—a beloved son, husband, father, brother, nephew, cousin, and friend whose warm spirit touched every life he encountered.

Scott will forever be remembered for his kind heart, his quick wit, and the unwavering loyalty he showed to the people he loved. He had a rare gift for making others feel welcome, valued, and understood. His presence brought comfort, laughter, and light, and his memory will continue to live on in the hearts of all who were blessed to know him.

On February 14, 2006, Scott met the love of his life, Kayucca Perry. From that day forward, they were inseparable—so close that she became known as his shadow. Their love blossomed into something beautiful and enduring, and together they built a loving family. Scott was a devoted father, cherishing his four children: Demya Harris, Iveyonna Perry, Javarius Perry, and Josiah Elliott. His children were his pride, his joy, and the center of his world.

Scott lived his life with a quiet strength and a deep sense of responsibility. He looked out for his loved ones without hesitation, always doing what needed to be done. His loyalty was steadfast, his love genuine, and his heart generous.

Scott was preceded in death by his father, Joseph E. Elliott; his maternal grandparents, Sallie Ruth Eady and Lonnie Eady; and his paternal grandparents, Mary Elliott and Edward Elliott.

He leaves behind his loving mother, Sue Eady; his devoted wife, Kayucca Perry; and his four cherished children. He is also survived by his siblings Clay A. Layne, Latesha M. Layne, and Cedrick D. Gifford; nieces Brionna Layne, Jamiya Layne, and Shantasia Smith; nephew Karter Gifford; maternal aunts Lillian (Eric) Nelson and Sonja (Michael) Magwood; paternal aunts and uncle Maryanne Elliott, Eddie Elliott, Denise Elliott, and Renee Elliott; and a host of cousins who loved him dearly.

He is also lovingly remembered by his extended family, his in-laws — Cynthia Perry and John Wayne Perry, along with Nikiaja Perry, Navielle Smith, Shambrica Smith, and Franklin Smith — all of whom embraced him wholeheartedly as one of their own.

Though Scott's time on earth was far too short, the impact he made—through his love, his generosity, and his compassion—will never be forgotten. His legacy lives on in the hearts of his family, his friends, and all who were touched by his life.
